BUSINESS MANAGER'S REPORT

BY KEVIN B. CASEY

Sisters and Brothers, as I sit here and write this article for the Conduit, the Labor Day holiday has just passed and the kids are back at school. We have been very busy down here at the hall with the Labor Day Block Party, the Local 25 Softball Tournament, and the EWMC Fishing Trip. We couldn't have asked for better weather for all three events. All of us had a great time. Some upcoming events in the next few months are the kids' Halloween party, the NY Jets football game and the kids' Christmas party.

Employment has slowed down a bit over the last few weeks, with three big jobs; Belmont Racetrack, Trader Joes' Cold Storage and NYU Langone Manhasset all finishing up at the same time. We do have some big jobs getting ready to break ground in the next few months: A small data center in Melville, Brookhaven Hospital's $650 million dollar project in Patchogue, Home Depot Distribution Center in Yaphank, and Northwell Cell and Gene Therapy's $450 million dollar project in New Hyde Park. Also, there are a few big residential projects in Baldwin and Glen Cove.

On September 17, 2026, Local 25 will be sending our delegation to San Diego, California for the start of the IBEW Convention. The convention is held every five years. At our most recent Local 25 elections in June the members voted for our delegation to represent Local 25. I will give a full report on the convention at the October union meeting and in the next edition of the Conduit.

On October 2, 2026, Local 25 will hold its annual college scholarship golf outing. This is our 9th year having this great event. Since the inception of the golf outing, Local 25 has helped 128 members' children with scholarship money, totaling $746k over the past nine years.

Brothers and Sisters, that ends my report for this edition of the Conduit. Remember to work safe, turn off energized circuits, and always remember to stick together out there.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

BY SEAN MEEHAN

As summer begins to wind down, I am pleased to report that employment remains strong.

We recently held our 55th Annual IBEW Softball Tournament from August 28th through August 30th in Baldwin Park. Once again, we were fortunate to have great weather, and everyone had a terrific time. Both of our teams represented us well. Local 3 won the upper bracket, and Local 98 Philadelphia won the lower bracket. Thank you to everyone who helped out and volunteered this year. A special thank-you goes to Chairman Ron DeCicco and John Guadagno for once again running and coordinating the tournament. I also want to thank Joe and Jake for all of their behind-the-scenes help, as well as Welsbach Electric for their continued support. This year, we also participated in the IBEW Midwest Tournament in Colorado for the first time. Everyone had an amazing time, and Local 25 won our bracket. Congratulations to all the players.

This year's block party was held on Saturday, August 15th, and it was another great success. We were fortunate to enjoy a beautiful day, and I want to thank everyone who came out to spend it with us. I also want to thank all of the volunteers for their hard work and support—we could not have done it without you. We are already looking forward to doing it again next year.

We also held our annual Local 25 Scholarship and EWMC fishing trip out of Captree. It was another beautiful day and a great event enjoyed by all. I am almost afraid to keep mentioning how great the weather has been for our events this year because I do not want to jinx it moving forward. Thank you to Ricky Viera and the EWMC for all of their help, and a very big thank-you to Jenn Megliola for coordinating and running the trip.

Upcoming events include the Local 25 Scholarship Golf Outing on October 2nd, the New York Jets game against the Las Vegas Raiders on November 1st, the Halloween Party on Saturday, October 24th from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m., and the IBEW Convention on September 17th in San Diego.

In closing, I want to thank John Guadagno, Kevin Casey, the Business Office staff, everyone who works in our office, and everyone who has helped me transition into my new position as President of Local 25. I could not have done it without your support, and it truly means a great deal to me. I hope everyone has a safe and enjoyable fall. I look forward to seeing everyone soon. Work safe and always look out for one another.

Special thanks to Danielle Thompson of the President's Office and Diane Crennan of the Business Office for helping with many of the off-course duties involved with running the golf outings. As always, this year's outings would not have been possible without the help of Golf Committee members Jim Starke, George Starke, BJ Bjornson, Matt McDermott, George Werner, Guy Yuhas, Sal Stuto, Vinny Ferravanti and Billy Jankowski. Thanks to each of you for helping and participating in this year's outings.

Keep sharp through the off season as the 2027 golf outings will be here before you know it.

Check upcoming Conduits for dates of future outings and changes coming up with the Local 25 Golf Club and Golf Committee.

The Brotherhood Of Electricians

NEC CODE CORNER

This month we will continue exploring the 2023 National Electrical Code, specifically Article 210.8 Ground-Fault Circuit Interrupter Protection for Personnel. It is typical for this code section to be revised when the code book is updated every three years, and this latest edition is no exception. The document that governs the creation on the NEC, the NEC Style Manual, has been revised to allow for the use of acronyms in the NEC. The term “Ground-fault circuit-interrupter protection for personnel” has been replaced in various places in the NEC with the term “Class A GFCI” because this class of GFCI limits the ground-fault current to 4 to 6 milliamperes, for the protection of personnel, and the acronym GFCI is commonly used in the electrical industry. In Article 100 Definitions, following the definition for Ground-Fault Circuit Interrupter (GFCI), the informational note explains that Class A ground-fault circuit interrupters trip when the ground-fault current is 6 mA or higher and does not trip when the ground-fault current is less than 4 mA. Another significant change occurred in 210.8(A)(6), Kitchens. List item (6) has been revised so that ALL kitchen receptacles require ground-fault current-interruption for personnel, including any cord and plug connected equipment in the kitchen, not just those receptacles serving countertops. The 2023 edition of the National Electrical Code has specific language concerning many types of installations. Remember to consult the code book for additional information. The Outline and Language of the code is included below. Practice using the Codeology Method to answer all your code challenges.

CHAPTER, ARTICLE, PART, and SECTION!

2023 National Electrical Code

Chapter 2 Wiring and Protection

Article 210 Branch Circuits

Part I. General

Section 10.8 Ground-Fault Circuit-Interrupter Protection for Personnel.

210.8 Ground-Fault Circuit-Interrupter Protection for Personnel.

A listed Class A GFCI shall provide protection in accordance with 210.8(A) through (F). The GFCI shall be installed in a readily accessible location.

Informational Note: See 215.9 for GFCI protection on feeders.

For the purposes of this section, the distance from receptacles shall be measured as the shortest path the power supply cord connected to the receptacle would follow without piercing a floor, wall, ceiling, or fixed barrier.

210.8(A) Dwelling Units.

All 125-volt through 250-volt receptacles installed in the following locations and supplied by single-phase branch circuits rated 150 volts or less to ground shall have ground-fault circuit-interrupter protection for personnel:

- (1) Bathrooms
- (2) Garages and also accessory buildings that have a floor located at or below grade level not intended as habitable rooms and limited to storage areas, work areas, and areas of similar use
- (3) Outdoors
- (4) Crawl spaces — at or below grade level
- (5) Basements
Receptacles installed under the exception to 210.8(A) (5) shall not be considered as meeting the requirements of 210.52(G).
- (6) Kitchens
- (7) Areas with sinks and permanent provisions for food preparation, beverage preparation, or cooking
- (8) Sinks — where receptacles are installed within 1.8 m (6 ft) from the top inside edge of the bowl of the sink
- (9) Boathouses
- (10) Bathtubs or shower stalls — where receptacles are installed within 1.8 m (6 ft) of the outside edge of the bathtub or shower stall
- (11) Laundry areas
- (12) Indoor damp and wet locations

So what does this mean?

This revision for 2023 NEC at 210.8(A)(6), Dwelling Units – Kitchens, requires ground-fault circuit-interrupter (GFCI) protection for all cord-and-plug connected equipment in the kitchen. The 2020 NEC language – “(6) Kitchens – where the receptacles are installed to serve the countertop surfaces", has been deleted, as shown in the struckthrough text. The Consumer Products Safety Commission (CPSC), statistics indicate that between 2011 and 2022 there were over 80 electrocutions of personnel working on appliances or other equipment at the countertop and beyond the countertop in kitchens. This revision reveals that GFCI protection should be installed to protect a person working with cord-and-plug connected appliances or equipment because electrical hazards can occur anywhere, not just countertops. Another consideration is that many appliances have a grounded frame, which could be used as a return current path to the source, creating an increased risk to the user when working energized while troubleshooting appliances. GFCI protection reacting at low fault current values between 4 to 6 milliamps responding in 1/40 of a second (0.025 seconds) to protect personnel is a safer approach than just relying on overcurrent protection devices; fuses or circuit breakers, which were designed to protect conductors and equipment from overcurrents; overloads, short circuits and high value ground-faults. It is important to realize that GFCI protection is required for all 125-volt through 250-volt receptacles within the kitchen and not just those receptacles located at countertop locations. The 2023 edition of the National Electrical Code certainly meets the purpose of the code – sensible revisions reflecting advances in technology along with industry practices for the practical safeguarding of persons and property from hazards arising from the use of electricity.
